CORRECTION

All Saints Council 4240 Menomonee Falls

On Super Bowl Sunday, All Saints Council 4240 Menomonee Falls from Brookfield held the 15th Annual Knights of Columbus PGK Drew Dederich Memorial, which raised a record-breaking amount of $4,843.19 for the Wisconsin Special Olympics. Drew Dederich's legacy inspired the event, as he noticed the struggles the Special Olympics faced in raising funds for local participants 15 years ago. Drew's oldest daughter, Missy, had greatly benefited from their program, and through the council event, she and other athletes were given the opportunity to participate. The charity check will be presented by Drew's widow, Vickie, and Grand Knight Don, continuing the tradition of kindness and generosity that Drew exemplified.

Correction: Our March Badger Bulletin on page two 'IN THE SPOTLIGHT' article incorrectly listed Holy Spirit Council 4648 from Brookfield as the council in the spotlight. The correct Council is All Saints Council 4240 Menomonee Falls.

Monastery Move Completed

By Jim Massey

(HOLLANDALE, WI) – After more than 10 years of planning and fundraising, the nuns at Valley of Our Lady Monastery have moved from Prairie du Sac to a new monastery near Hollandale.

The majority of the move took place during the first full week of March, when a group of more than 40 volunteers worked with a moving company and with the nuns in moving items from the previous monastery just north of Prairie du Sac to the new monastery on Urness Road, just off of County Road K, between Hollandale and Barneveld.

Groundbreaking at the 229-acre site was in early 2022, as the building site was prepared for construction of the 54,000-square-foot monastery. Actual construction began in August of 2022 and is still in its final stages. Completion is scheduled for May of this year.

Day Host-Jablonski of Madison, who was the project manager for the move, said 22 Cistercian sisters will live in the monastery, which was built to house up to 30 women. The nuns come from all over the world – interestingly, none are originally from Wisconsin – and range in age from 27 to 92. Their primary source of income is producing communion wafers for churches across the country.

Mike Ashmore, a member of Msg. Bier Council 10905, Ridgeway/Barneveld, worked closely with Host-Jablonski to coordinate the move and seek local volunteers to help. Michelle Lancaster, a member of St. Bernadette Parish from Barneveld, developed an online signup form that resulted in volunteers coming from Barneveld, Ridgeway, Hollandale, Blanchardville, Dodgeville, Mt. Horeb, Mineral Point, and Madison.

Members of the Blackhawk Council 3099, Saul City, helped with the move at the site of the previous monastery, while members of the St. Patrick Council 7489, Hollandale, Fr. Ignatius Klein Council 10559, Mt. Horeb, the Father Samuel Mazzuchelli Council 2854 in Mineral Point and the Ridgeway/Barneveld Council were involved on the Hollandale end.

The new Valley of Our Lady Monastery includes a chapel for nuns and guests; quarters and parking for guests; living, working, and other liturgical and ceremonial spaces for the nuns; an altar bread-production building; a garage and other outbuildings.

The bread-production machine—which last year produced 13 million wafers—originated in France. In January, a crew came from France to move the machine, known as the Communion Wafer Workshop, from Prairie du Sac to Hollandale. After the machine was moved and reassembled, the nuns were able to resume production on March 11.

Reverend Mother Anne Marie and Sister Mary Benedicta were on the residential moving committee. Sister Christina Marie coordinated the Communion Wafer Workshop move.

Host-Jablonski said the move would have been difficult without the large group of volunteers.

“The nuns are hugely grateful for the help of the volunteers and their neighbors, new and old, for their friendship and ongoing support,” she said.

The volunteers helped move items from the trucks to the various rooms, provided snacks, assembled furniture, put up curtains, and cleaned the building when the move was complete.

Host-Jablonski said that once construction on the chapel is finished in May, regular Masses at the monastery will be held open to the public.

According to the Valley of Our Lady website, in 1908, a small group of Benedictine monks in France founded a new monastery where they could live their vows more fervently. As they grew, they founded many more monasteries throughout Europe. The Cistercian Order now has houses all over the world in which monks and nuns continue to embrace a simple but intense life liturgy, manual labor and the search for God through deep contemplative prayer.

In 1957, Bishop William O’Connor asked the Cistercians to send contemplative nuns to the newly formed Diocese of Madison. Six nuns answered the call, establishing the Valley of Our Lady Monastery in Prairie du Sac.

The nuns plan to plant a garden and raise animals on their property to be as self-sustaining as possible.

Council 746 Baraboo

Confessional Buliders

(Baraboo, WI) When the Parochial Administrator of the Diocese of Madison, Wisconsin, Pastorate 7, Fr. Paul Arinze, was asked what St. Joseph Church in Baraboo, WI, needed, he gave a simple answer - confessionals. The Knights of Columbus Monsignor O'Reilly Council 746 in Baraboo, WI, immediately took on the project and ensured the Church's needs were met.

The Council's team utilized the talents of its members and members' wives to professionally design, raise funds, execute, and deliver turnkey confessionals to St. Joseph's Church. The construction team consisted of skilled craftsmen who completed the project in just three weeks. The Council's efforts were impressive, and they delivered a high-quality product in record time.

Notably, Camp Gray in Baraboo donated over 100 board feet of sustainably harvested oak lumber for this project, which was a significant contribution. Anonymous donors also provided additional funding to ensure the project's success, and their generosity was greatly appreciated.

The confessionals were scheduled to be completed by Easter Sunday, which was a significant milestone for the Church. The project's success was a testament to the Council's dedication and hard work, and it was a source of pride for the entire community.
